AN OPEN LETTER TO MOTHERS.

WE ARE ASSERTING IN THE COURTS OUR RIGHT TO THE EXCLUSIVE USE OF THE WORD "CASTORIA," AND "PITCHER'S CASTORIA," AS OUR TRADE MARK.

I, DR. SAMUEL PITCHER, of Hyannis, Massachusetts, was the originator of "PITCHER'S CASTORIA," the same that has borne and does now bear the fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher wrapper. This is the original "PITCHER'S CASTORIA," which has been used in the homes of the Mothers of America for over thirty years. LOOK CAREFULLY at the wrapper and see that it is the kind you have always bought and has the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher wrapper. No one has authority from me to use my name except The Centaur Company of which Chas. H. Fletcher is President.

March 8, 1897. Samuel Pitcher, D.

Do Not Be Deceived.

Do not endanger the life of your child by accepting a cheap substitute which some druggist may offer you (because he makes a few more pennies on it), the ingredients of which even he does not know.

"The Kind You Have Always Bought" BEARS THE FAC-SIMILE SIGNATURE OF

Chas. H. Fletcher Insist on Having

ONE YEAR . . . ONE DOLLAR

The world would have had no biscuits this year if it had not been for the American farmer.

Spain will send 27,500 more soldiers to Cuba. The insurgents have evidently lost no ground yet.

The Robbins Queensware Co., of Paducah, made an assignment Monday. Dull business is given as the cause of the failure.

Consul General Lee has been providing for 1400 destitute Americans in Cuba with the fund appropriated by congress for that purpose.

Dr. Hunter announces that he is tired of politics. A great many people with his experience would be moved by the same tired feeling.

The Todd County Teachers Institute passed resolutions opposing the use of tobacco by teachers in any form. That is not a bad movement.

If it takes a failure of the wheat crop in all of the foreign countries to restore confidence in this country, the old girl has a very slippery hold on life.

While the farmers have made their hundreds of dollars from the rise in the price of wheat, the speculators have made their hundreds of thousands.

Mr. H. W. Van Senden, formerly private secretary to Secretary Carlisle, is under arrest in Washington, charged with embezzlement. Van has many friends in Kentucky who are loath to believe the charges.

Canfield, who was deposed as clerk of the Eddyville prison some weeks ago, claimed that he could not be turned out without cause, and he carried his claims to circuit court, and Judge Breathitt decided that Canfield was still clerk.

Collections are being taken in various cities for funds for the families of the miners who are striking for living wages. In the Louisville contributions we notice $50 credited to the Dispatch, but the Courier-Journal, Post and Times are not mentioned.

All the schools in the county will open Monday. The public schools are the bulwark of the country. The perpetuity of the Republic depends upon the intelligence and patriotism of the people. Keep the children in the school; stand by the industrious, faithful teacher, and you build upon a solid foundation.

The Democratic State Central Committee of Pennsylvania met Monday, and after a noisy fight declared, by a vote of 83 to 26 that Mr. Harrity's seat as national committeeman from that State was vacant. Mr. Harrity was chairman of the National Democratic Committee last year and as he bolted Bryan the Pennsylvania Democracy are placing him on the shelf.

The Directors of the United States mint estimates that two and a half millions of gold has come from Alaska since that bonanza was discovered. After all the blasts of all the trumpets, the amount of gold to come to the country is but little more than half of the amount of silver put in circulation in one month when silver had just half a show at the mints.

"Buck-Jumped," that is, C. W. Buck, the bolter, who was killed for a speech at Cadiz next Monday, the same day that Ollie James was to speak there, has canceled his appointment. But one conclusion can be drawn from this "flying of the coop" by Mr. Buck: he has no disposition to place his anatomy in proximity with the Crittenden buzz saw.

Prof. Blanton Boyd has been employed as principal of the school at Winero, Graves county. The school employs three teachers and will probably have to use four this fall. The trustees are to be congratulated upon the appointment of Prof. Boyd to take charge of the school. He is one of the brightest young men of Southern Kentucky, and as a teacher already ranks with the very best.

Mr. J. R. Hindman, the bolter candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, has been speaking in the First district; his audiences have been so small in the old Gibraltar that his little faction has no hope of getting any votes down this way. It is amusing to hear of him proposing a joint debate with the Democratic nominee. The fight is between the Democrats and Republicans; the nominee of one or the other of these parties will be the next Clerk of the Court of Appeals, and the Courier-Journal side show never was, is not, and will not be in the fight, and every one recognizes this fact.

"APPLES OF SILVER IN FRAMES OF GOLD."

While the Courier-Journal is abusing the advocates of bimetalism, and, under the spell of Wall street, is decrying that financial system with all its might and main, the Dispatch is digging into the editorial columns of that paper, and bringing forth gems that sparkle today as they did when written a few years ago, before the old Courier-Journal had fallen a victim to the woeings of the banker's oligarchy. When Capt. James Hindman, who is billed for a goldbug speech here today, was Lieut. Governor of Kentucky by the grace of the party he is now fighting, the Courier-Journal was preaching the true doctrine, and there was none to say it nay. Indeed from the governor down, all applauded its expressions of faith. On the 12th day of April, 1886, while Capt. Hindman was Lieutenant Governor, the Courier-Journal printed the following editorial; he raised no objection to it then, what will he say about it today:

The impertinent slur is sometimes heard that if the cause of bimetalism has the advantage in numbers, the cause of monometallism has the advantage in brains. While the proposition is false, it has a phase of superficial plausibility upon it. The policy is exposed by the single consideration which might be advanced as an extinguisher. The cause of bimetalism is that of the masses of men upon the earth who do the world's labor and work out its productions, and the cause of monometallism is the cause of the money oligarchy who, by the medium of rent, interest and craft, secure to themselves the greater part of the fruits of the producers' toil. It is the interest of the millions against that of the tens, and, as the former have not the leisure, from the exigencies of their position; or, if, indeed, the means to devote to a very general and profound education, it follows very naturally that the minority, whom they support and enrich, are enabled to maintain a proper personal average of education.

But there has never been and there never will be a case in any popular movement against oppression to which the same impertinent slur is not quite as applicable as to the money question. There is always a caste, or order, or class which has arrogated to itself some special privilege, some peculiar advantage, some power or prerogative in derogation of public rights and interests, and when the popular mass is aroused to proceed against its oppressions, the patriots never have averaged out quite as well in personal education, cultivation or craft as the small minority who have been despoiling them. The reasons are so obvious that it is a waste of words to explain it. The Bourbon minority in France had a better personal average of brains than the patriots who overthrew them. The better personal average of brains was with the despotism of Charles I., though the numbers were with Cromwell. The personal average of brains in banking and finance was with Biddle and his rotten bank, though the numbers were with President Jackson and Thomas Hart Benton.

But there is not lacking illustrious leadership for popular uprising to recapture to lost possessions of the public and put down the enemies. The men designed to lead such movements on to victory are magnetized by the generous fire of nobler aspirations than could influence the enemies of the common humanity, and they are thus equipped with concentrated moral powers borrowed like their trusts of leadership from the great masses who follow them. While their movements may lack something, then, in some of the personal averages of the rank and file, they have the compensating concentration of brain power at the head of the column and all the advantages of both skill or craft and numbers.

As to this money question, the beneficiaries from monometallism are retired capitalists and creditors—a small part of the population numerically, but people of very high average of personal training and cultivation. When this small segment of the population conspire to rob all the remainder by cheapening their labor and labor products, it does not mean much as a test of the merits of the question to say that the brains and the numbers are on opposite sides.

For, after all, the question is one of common sense, as well as learning, of experience, as well as theoretic science. A very plain man could readily perceive and grasp the bottom principle of Adam Smith's "Wealth of Nations," that "it is labor instead of gold and silver which is the true measure of values." This fact, which is fundamental, is so clear and plain that the plowman can understand it as well as the financial expert—no clear, indeed, that no one but a knave or a blockhead could dispute or question it. Even gold, the fetish of this oligarchy cult, is measured by this common standard of labor. If it were practicable to mine gold as freely and with as little expenditure as iron, gold would be worth less than iron, the cost being no greater and the utility as an agent and medium of industry being much less. Twelve years ago, in point of fact, a period of cheaper production of gold had lowered it below the parity of silver. Now, while all the world is struggling for it, the cost of its production as indicated by the fact that the yield has fallen off from the maximum more than one third. It costs more labor to produce a given quantity. The value has increased proportionately.

These are facts which men know without the training of bank office. Men can also learn that it is necessary 25 to 35 per cent. more wheat, or cotton, or iron, or sugar, or what not, to bring them in $50, or $500, or $1000, in gold or its equivalent, than a few years ago. Labor, therefore, which is the cost and the highest test, teaches even plain people that gold has been very sharply advanced in value in the disastrous period which has been peculiarly occupied by the conspiracy of income-bearing capital against labor and producing capital.

To say that it requires 25 to 35 per cent. more labor produce to purchase a given sum of gold, or its equivalent, is to say that the gold power has acquired that much more sovereignty over the human race. The capacity to labor and the endurance of brawn and brains have not increased, unfortunately, in proportion to the rise in gold—to the increase of toll and hardship imposed upon men; and consequently this same conspiracy is going a little further than to a law more merciful than that of monometallism allowed Shylock to venture, and is taking away more or less of the life-blood of producers with the pound of flesh. And there are other facts which may be learned outside of the school or bank parlors.

It was erroneously announced last week that Ollie James had announced himself a candidate for congress. The announcement called forth favorable comment from almost the entire press of the district, and Mr. James has received strong assurances of support from people all over the district. His popularity is not confined to any particular locality of the old Gibraltar, but everywhere his fitness for this honor is recognized and his brave, manly fight for the old time Democracy at a critical period in the history of the party makes him tower like Saul above his brethren in the fight; hence it is but natural that his name is associated with high political honors. While he has made no formal announcement of his candidacy, it is understood among his friends that he will in due season enter the contest, and unless all indications fail, he will be an easy winner.

Evangelina Cisneros, a beautiful eighteen year old Cuban girl who has been kept in a vile Spanish prison for a year because she raised the alarm and had one of butcher Weyler's underlings tied and held until his friends came to his relief, when he attempted to enter her room while she was alone. The papers in this country have given broad publicity to the facts and prominent people all over the country have petitioned the queen of Spain for her release, and this revolting conduct of the Spanish officers has called the attention of the country to the beastly methods of Spain in dealing with Cubes. Everybody knows how Kentucky would measure out justice to a man who thus mistreats a woman.

This is the way it strikes the Hopkinstown Kentuckian: There is no law to prohibit wheat from being made into flour. That's why wheat is up. There is a law prohibiting silver being coined into money. That's why silver is down.

NUNNS SWITCH.

Has Been Struck by a Cyclone of Prosperity, and the Little Town is "On Its Ear."

Ed. Press: Learning that the little town of Nunns, as it quietly nestled amid its verdant capped hills and abiding sand-bars had been struck by that long deferred wave of "Prosperity" with a big "P." I took the train Sunday morning and in company with Mrs. E. spent a very pleasant day there.

I found, upon investigation, that the boom was a reality and that the little village was actually in the arms of the aforesaid "wave," and appeared as proud and happy as a young Miss in the arms of her first lover.

THE GLADSTONE MINING COMPANY

Such is the name of the new corporation formed to develop the coal deposits adjacent to Nunns. The Company, I am told, is composed of Evansville capitalists principally and that there is sufficient means back of the enterprise to push it to a successful termination. The Company has thus far purchased in fee simple the lands or Tom Hughes and the Taylor heirs, comprising some 175 acres, and have a one year option on the adjoining farm of Tom Simpson, containing some 85 acres. Work has already commenced, and shortly after my arrival at Nunns, in company with Mr. Joe Davis, an experienced coal miner, I ascended a young mound to the point where a drift into the mine is being made. This drift is about 75 yards west of the old Mc Collum entry, and was formerly an air shaft for that entry. I went into it some fifty feet from the surface, where the main body of coal is first struck. At or near this point drifting will commence and the working rooms opened. This is the upper strata or vein, as I understand, there being a still better one beneath it.

Mr. Davis informs me that these two veins range from 28 to 40 inches in thickness, and that the coal grades as first class bituminous, and is not surpassed in this section for coal of that grade, being comparatively free of sulphur. A tramway is now being built by the company from the railroad to the mouth of the mine, a distance of some 2300 feet, and when completed coal can be delivered from the mine on board the cars at comparatively trifling cost. I learn that it is the intention of the company to make other entries to the vein along the face of the hill, and before another year I expect to see that whole hill side a bee-hive of human industry, with train loads of black diamonds daily departing from it. Evidently there is a fortune in those hills, and the Gladstone Company seems determined to unearth it.

Hon. Posey, of Evansville, is now superintending the affairs of the company at Nunns. Mr. Posey represented the Evansville district in congress one term. He is a gentleman of means and large business experience, and I regret that he was absent in Evansville Sunday as I should like to have met and had a chat with him. He is boarding with my old friend John Gilbert, and Uncle John informed me that Mr. Posey asserts that there is both coal and oil beneath the bottom lands at Nunns, and after awhile his company will put their drills at work to penetrate it. Suppose the drill should strike a five hundred barrel "gusher." Waw! How that little town would strut!

Our entire visit Sunday was a most pleasant one. The good people there are sociable and friendly, and since the saloon was abolished, some two years ago, peace and quietness now reign where erstwhile drunken debauchery held sway. But yet, it is beginning to be whispered about that a "blind tiger" has recently established its lair near Nunns, and one or two shrewd detectives are now on its trail. Woe be unto the animal if caught.

Nunns needs a post office lady, and the passenger business there is enough to justify a regular ticket agency. For a year or so Mr. J. W. Pritchett, the accommodating merchant, ant, has been attending to the business of the road, flagging trains, etc. "free gratis for nothing," and since the advent of the Gladstone Company the station business at this point has more than trebled.

Verily the future outlook for Nunns is rosy-hued and altogether gladsome.

That is What Ollie James Did to a Big Audience.

A PLEASING SPEECH.

Hon. Ollie James of Marion spoke in Murry Monday according to appointment. A large crowd was out to hear him. He was in fine form and voice and delivered a most pleasing address, completely captivating the audience, which was for the most part, entirely in sympathy with the views of the speaker. He took up the arguments of the gold standard speakers and completely dissected them, one by one. His arraignment of the Republican party for the mismanagement of State affairs was simply fearful, but the truth of his statements can not be challenged. He urged unity and solidity in the county and judicial races. Referring to the query whether the Democrats swallowed the Populists or the Populists the Democrats, he begged leave to state that we need not be bothered by that. The combination of the silver forces would swallow the Republicans.

His remarks were interspersed with humorous illustrations and his occasional flights of oratory were simply grand. He is certainly a brilliant young man and would acquit himself with high honors in any place within the gift of the people of Kentucky. He promised to be with us again when the campaign commences and make some speeches over the county.—Murry Ledger.

A distinction without a difference amounts to but little. There is a difference—a real difference—a vast difference between Sutherland's Eagle Eye Salve and any other. The greatest difference is in the results obtained from its use. It cures sore eyes, granulated lids, and styes quicker than any other known remedy, and cannot injure the eye of a babe.

To the Voters of Crittenden County.

At the earnest solicitation of my friends from all political parties, and in the meantime having received the nomination of my party, I do very willingly announce that I am a candidate for reelection to the office of county clerk, and if elected, promise you a faithful discharge of the duties of said office. I feel thankful and do appreciate the favors you have shown me in the past, and I trust that no official or other act of mine has caused any one to regret the interest you have so manifested in my behalf in the past; and should you, by your influence and vote at the next November election, again favor me with said office, I will appreciate the favor as much as possible for man to do, and will use my best endeavors to make you a faithful and efficient officer, showing no distinction or partiality to any one on account of politics, position, creed or color. Your obedient servant and friend, D. WOODS. May 14, 1897.

A Card from Mr. Truitt.

To the People of Crittenden County: I most heartily thank those who have already honored me, and assure all that, whatever the result may be, such an expression of confidence will never be forgotten. I will greatly appreciate the support of all in the approaching election, and should I be chosen your Assessor, my utmost endeavor and greatest hope will be to make you a capable, faithful officer. I shall endeavor to see all in person and in the meantime remember that I am a candidate on account of no one will hold your support in higher regard. Your obedient servant, J. N. TRUITT.

Mrs. Nancy Lanham, widow of the late Thomas Lanham, died at the home of her son, Mr. Geo. Lanham, Friday. While she had been in feeble health a long time, she was not seriously ill, and her death was very sudden and unexpected. She was a very old lady—one of the old landmarks of the county. She had raised a family, passed into a cheery old age, and was bidding her time when the summons came.

THE SCHOOL

Opens Monday With Everything in Fine Condition for a Successful Term.

All Pupils Should be Present at the Opening.

Next Monday morning the Fourth Term of the Marion Graded Public School opens, and everything portends a most successful term. As the years go by and the work of the school under the able management of Mr. Charles Evans is seen and felt, and not only in the community, but throughout the county, the school grows in popular favor, and the people of Marion take a greater interest in all that effects the institution. There are no dissensions, nor divisions nor factions, but the entire community stands behind the school, upholding the hands of the teachers and rejoicing in its progressive history.

When the hour arrives Monday morning, every child in the school age should be in the chapel, books in hand, ready for the work. A great majority of them will be there and need no exhortation, but sometimes there are parents who fail to see the necessity of starting their children the first day, or the first week, and to these the principal desires to appeal. He can organize quicker and more satisfactory to himself and pupils, and begin the earnest work earlier and with more uniformity if all are on hands the first day. If a pupil misses the first few days, he starts at a disadvantage, and he will feel licensed perhaps to absent at other days during the term.

With everything in readiness, there should not be a lagging Monday morning. The school belongs to the public, every citizen of the community is a share holder, and if he be a sensible man or woman, no pains will be spared to get every advantage offered, and he or she who fails in this particular is losing money on his own investment.

The teachers this year are as follows:

First and second grades, Miss Ray Woods.

Third and fourth grades, Miss Lillie Cook.

Fifth and sixth grades, E. D. Gray.

Seventh grade, Miss Maggie Moore.

Eighth grade, T. F. Newcomb.

Ninth and tenth grades, Charles Evans.

The Ohio Valley Brass Band has rented the opera house for a year. The young men propose to manage so as to make something for the band and to have a number of first class entertainments for the people of the town. They will engage only the best talent, that worthy the patronage of the best people. They anticipate some of the best talent on the lecture field, as well as some good opera companies, and musicals will be a special feature. The house will be repaired and put in first class order and the stage will be fitted up in splendid style. We take pleasure in bespeaking for the young men the patronage of the public.

Nonie Sutcliffe, e. d. died at her home in Marion Friday, of consumption.

STRUCK OIL.

And is Hopeful of a Big Flow Just Ahead.

Mr. W. D. Wallingford, who has been prospecting for minerals and oil on his farm near town for several months, is just passing through an exciting stage of his terrestrial investigations. At a depth of 175 feet he struck oil. Just how much there is he can not tell, but he has found oil and has it on exhibition at his livery stable. From a bucket of water a considerable quantity of oil can be taken; a portion of it sinks to the bottom of the bucket, and oil can be skimmed from the top of the water. The well has been sunk 210 feet, and work still goes on. The drill now in operation can go only 225 feet, and our prospector will push along on "his own hook" until he reaches that depth. If he does not strike a fortune by that time, he proposes to organize a stock company, and push his researches onward and downward. There will be no trouble in organizing the company, for already local capital is hobnobbing with him, and within twenty-four hours several hundred dollars can be found ready for use. At present he is not asking help, and does not want it; he has pushed along slowly by himself, and now as there appears to be something material in sight, he does not propose to divide up until he has to.

It may be that some of our old rugged hills are but the caps to cans of wealth beneath, and we may yet uncork the jugs and give the country a sample of the good nature has stored away beneath a rather rough exterior for us. In Crittenden we are digging fine coal, and have it in large quantities; we are exporting spar, and have hills full of it. And now with a prospect for oil, and other things not yet dreamed of, we may head off the Klondike, shut out Hardin county with her gold, and come under the string ahead of the onyx fields. Just keep your eye on us.

Mr. Zion Cemetery.

On the 25th the people of that section met at Mt. Zion church for the purpose of cleaning off the cemetery. Annually they have a meeting of this kind, and they have grown to regard this as a sacred duty they owe the dead, and very few fail to attend and take part in the work. Last Wednesday fully five hundred people gathered there, and many came from a long distance, having friends resting in this "city of the dead," they were willing to dedicate the day to their memory. The forenoon was spent in the work. At noon dinner was spread on the ground and there was plenty and to spare. In the afternoon religious services were held and all participated in the prayers and songs. An appropriate address was made by "Uncle" Highly Gilbert. He assisted in digging the first grave at the cemetery, and has lived to see more than four hundred other mounds reared in this silent home. The first grave was made for a Mr. Beal, since then the representatives of almost all of the old families in that section have gone thither. Among the pioneers there are Ryland Heath, Col. Wm. Hughes, Chapel Nunn, Chesley Nunn, Dr. M. Bristol, Wm. and Jack Hill, and others whose names can not now be recalled.

CHURCH DEDICATION.

Caldwell Springs Church Dedicated Its Splendid Edifice.

The new church buildings at Caldwell Springs were formally dedicated to the worship of God Sunday. About 2,000 people attended the dedicatory services. People from four counties were present, and it was a red letter day in the history of the progressive, solid church at that place. That community is noted for its peacefulness, industry and morality, and the church which has been in existence there for half a century has wielded a great influence in the shaping of the destinies of that splendid community; indeed who can measure the influence of a live church in any community.

Rev. Couch, who was expected to preach the sermon failed to come and Rev. J. S. Henry ably filled his place in the pulpit, and as he preached the people listened and were edified.

Before the sermon a collection was taken and the amount due on the house was readily subscribed.

Elder W. R. Gibbs is pastor of the church, and he is loved and honored by his people. He is a strong preacher, a devout man, always full of earnestness and zeal, and always a success as a pastor.

Monday evening's dispatches from Chicago read this way: "Wheat Low or Again; Corn Lost Its Gain, but New York Stocks were Up Early." The "New York Stocks" of course meant railroad stocks and other corporation bonds. The farmers will rejoice, of course, at this state of affairs. Nothing like having stocks going up.

PASSES AWAY.

One of the "Old Twins" Dies at the County Poor House.

Friday Louisa Stinson died at the county poor house. For years two old maids occupied a little house on the roadside just beyond Crittenden Springs, and everybody in that section, as well as all the visitors at Crittenden Springs knew the "old twins." This little house was bare of many of the every day comforts, but for years they struggled along, making a brave fight to keep out of the county poor house. The neighbors helped them and the visitors at Crittenden Springs for years threw many a ray of sunshine across that almost barren hearth, and caused many a smile to light up the pinched faces of these lonely old women by their small contributions. Finally the day came when they had to go to the poor house, and there last Friday the companionship of the two sisters was broken for the first time in the eighty years of their lives. Louisa died and Louisa remained.

They were the daughters of Hamilton Stinson, one of the pioneers of the county; he came to this State from one of the Carolinas about the beginning of the century and settled near where Mrs. Allen now lives, on the Marion and Sheridan road, a short distance from where the Sheridan and Springs road separates. Mr. Hamilton Stinson owned several hundred acres of land in that section and was fairly well to do in his day and generation. One morning, during the absence of his family from home his lifeless body was found suspended from a tier pole in his house, a log chain serving the purpose of a rope. Why he hung himself is not known by any one now living. He raised a large family, all of whom, except "the twins" left after the father's death. The youngest, David Stinson, was a physician; he went to California, and it was said, married wealthy and was prosperous until his death, many years ago; it was also said that he left a family, but none of them ever came to see the "old twins." Hamilton Stinson's second marriage was to the widow Shouse, and she was the mother of Louisa and Louisa. She had a son by her first husband named Henry Shouse, and in the fifties he killed a man named Simpson in Pope county, Illinois. He was afterwards arrested and upon trial was convicted and hanged at Golconda.

NEW SALEM.

Health generally good.
About two thirds of the ground for the '98 wheat crop is broken and there will be an increase of ten per cent of the wheat crop sown if the weather is favorable for plowing and preparing the ground; the high prices for the present crop will be the cause of the increase.

The Best Remedy

M. M. Repine, editor, Tiskilwall, Ill. Chief, says: "We won't keep house without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Experimented with many others but never got the true remedy until we used Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home, as in it we have a certain and sure cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery. They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures, and besides is guaranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles are at Orme's drug store.

Something to Depend On.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in special of Dr. King's New Discovery says that last winter his wife was attacked with LaGrippe, and her case became so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr.
King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle of it home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half a dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at Orme's drug store.

A Remarkable Cure of Chronic

Diarrhea.

In 1862, when I served my country as a private in company A 168th Pennsylvania Volunteers, I contracted chronic diarrhea and it has given me a great deal of trouble ever since.
I have tried a dozen different medicines and several prominent doctors, without any permanent relief. Not long ago a friend sent me a sample bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy, and after that I bought and took a 50 cent bottle, and now I can say that I am entirely cured. I can not be thankful enough to you for this great remedy and recommend it to all suffering veterans. If in doubt, write me Yours gratefully, Henry Steinberger, Allentown, Pa. Sold at J. H. Orme's drug store.

YOU ought to know that when suffering from any kidney trouble that a safe, sure remedy is Foley's Kidney Cure. Guaranteed or money refunded.
